

The Well for Women stands in solidarity with Black Lives Matter, and with the Black community as we mourn the lives of George Floyd and all those who have suffered at the hands of white supremacy.

We were taught in massage school to “keep politics out of your practice.” But this is human rights, not politics. We believe that the history and the current state of social inequality baked into the very establishment of our country is a system of white supremacy that must be dismantled and rebuilt. On the issues of police brutality, systemic racism and violence perpetuated in so many ways, to offer silence is to condone it. We will not stay silent.

- We commit to listening to, supporting and standing with our teammates who identify as Black and Brown women.
- We commit to continuing our team conversations about justice.
- We commit to providing resources to our white-identified staff members who want to address racism in themselves and their communities.
- We commit to speaking up as a local business in our community and to our government, demanding justice for Black lives in our country.

We ask that you join us in supporting Black-led, Black-centered organizations leading racial justice work in New Haven and Connecticut. Below are four organizations where you can start.
